It is so Mr. Hallifax yesterday sentenced a Chinese to short a time since the proposal to create this Board was discussed in the Legislative | fourteen days imprisonment Council that we need state but briefly the reasons for the innovation. Justices seldom attended the meetings onvened for licensing purposes, but that, as was pointed out at the time, was largely due to the fact that the meetings were convened at such a time and place as made it extremely inconvenient for the unofficial Justices to attend. However, the work will in all probability be attended to better by a small board appointed for a definite purpose than was likely under the old system even if the time and place of meetings had been fixed to suit the convenience of the Justices. The object in view in creating this Board wasexplained by His Excellency to be that we should have a body, who may the witness said that he saw it being forged, can be carried into operation by succesive the witness was arrested on a charge of lifetime. It will shed light on | Towerley to Dougles to Best of the this statement if we mention that about the time it was made there was a memorandum before the Council recommending the adop. Captain J. S. Rosch, her made 500 teles in the tion of the Gothenburg public-house system whip, extending over a period of latera years. for Hongkong. His Excellency went on to The Hallon has had the good fortune mover explain that the object in view in establish to have met with an accordance ing a permanent board is two-fold. "On the one hand it is desired to secure to the Corps that it is the intention of the Chinese to taxpayers of this Colony the monopoly put a heavy tax on tobsons and spirits and value of the publicans' and adjunct licences and to prevent that public asset being claimed as a right by the holders of the licence. This can be effected by declaring a said that the Foreign Ministers are inclined to period at which any or all may be terminated without compensation. In the second place it is desired by this method to facilitate public-house reform. For instance, it may seven faculties first, namely, Chineses lession, be feasible to place some or all of the public houses under a trust company whose profits Commerce, and Medicine and ta would be limited, and any profite from the establishment of the Femily of Associate Institutes in excess of those thus assigned mill later. Except Chinese Clauser and would be devoted to the improvement of the Public house. The manager would be placed on a fixed salary, so that he should have personal interest in promiting the sales of liquor." This in short is the Gothenburg system. His Excellance added that these are only possible projects for the future, and do not actually arise out of the Ordinance which creates the Board. But it is interesting to have this statement of the duties which are within the province of the Board, for it gives the needed stimulus to public interest in the election. This Board is to consist of a Chairman and Vice-Chairman appointed by the Governor, and of five other Justices, two of whom are appointed by the Governor and three are elected by the Justices of the Peace from among their number. Accord. ing to the latest Civil Service list there are about 60 Official and 120 Unofficial Justices, was alleged the defendant had attempted to though there are in the latter list the names | bribe. of several men who left the Colony long ago. We announced yesterday that His EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR had appointed the Hon. Sir HENRY MAY, Colonial Secretary, as President of the Board, the Hon. Mr. A. M. THOMSON as Vice-President, and the Hon. Mr. MURRAY STRWART and the Hon. Mr. EDWARD OSBORNE as members. While it will generally be agreed that His Excellency could scarcely have made better choice of citizens, objection may not unreasonably be taken to the Colonial Secretary and Colonial Treasurer being put they are members of the final Court OMLY communications relating to the news of Appeal on licensing matters. SUPREME COURT Wednesday, 19th January.

In CRIMINAL JURISDICTION BEFORE THE HON. MR. REES DAVIES (ACTING OHIER JUSTICE).

ALLEGED FORGERY OF A WILL Wong Yuk Shu was indicted on two counts charging him with forging and uttering a will. The Hon. Mr. F. A. Haseland (Acting Attorney-General), instructed by Mr. Bowley, Crown Solicitor, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. M. Slade, instructed by Mr. F. X. d'Almada, appeared for the defence.

The following jury were empenelled : Mesers. J. Witchell (foreman), J. J. Robson, E.V.M.R. de Sours, W. E. Clarke, E. Lerring, S. D. Hickie and A. Jarrand.

The Attorney-General, in opening the case for the Orown, said that the prisoner was the fifth brother of Wong Cham Shu, the deceased, who died on the 6th September at Kowkong, a place on the West River. Application for probate of the will produced had been made to the Bupreme Court, and one of the documents necessary to submit was the affidavit with respect to the due execution of the will. He expressed the wish that his property be handed over to his fifth brother to manage until his two sons came of age. Counsel explained that although the prisoner was not named as the executor, yet by the terms of the will he had to perform the ordinary duties of executor, and the practice of the Court was to grant probate on such a document. In support of the evidence for the prosecution ha would call a witness who would state that the prisoner said to him in Hongkong that he was going to make a will and get the property of his elder brother. He said he would get back the administration of the estate and not let the Government have it. The prisoner tried several times to copy his brother's signature, but could not do it. However, there was a fan close by on which his brother had written an ode and on the fan was the signature of the deceased. He practised the signature and then added to the

> The case for the prosecution did not proceed very far. Mr. Blade in cross-examining the first witness elicited from him the statement that he had seen the will forged on a pertain day, a Monday. Thereupon counsel intimated that Mr. d'Almada had had the will in his possession the previous Saturday. It was proved by the entry in his dairy. After a consultation between Mr. Blade and the Attorney-General, Mr. d'Almada went into the witnessbox and testified to receiving the will into his custody on the Saturday mentioned.

The case was secondingly stopped and the prisoner sequitted.

G. C. Colson, E. H. S. Somers, H. C. Josse, W. Nicholson, J. Pescock, S. Smith and U. B. Mr. Alabaster stated that the two men about

The latter, who had a short time before received $20 from his sister, gave them that money, but the second one demanded more. On his replying that that was all he had the second one hit him over the head with a chopper and threw him overboard. However, he was rescued by another sampan, which also gave chase and captured the robbers who were seen to throw the choppers and the money overboard. Both prisoners were found guilty and were sentenced to three years imprisonment each.

Following is the remainder of the report, of Tuesday's meeting held over from yesterday :-REMOVAL OF CRILINGS AND STAIR-LININGS. The report by the Select Committee appointed to consider and deal with the question of the removal of ceilings and stair-linings was submitted.

The PRESIDENT-In view of the minutes on this paper I think it would be advisable to refer this back to the committee, but before doing so I would like to point out that the committee have gone into the matter and have noth- against on ten separate summonses for that shee ing to guide them. I was not a member of the Board when the byelaw was passed. At the time it was passed it seems to me that the fact was overlooked that the removal of ceilings or stair-linings was useless except in houses where offences complained of were committed on all the other walls are solid, and that being so, different dates in December. Do I gather from that that nationality. The defendant was the wife of a unless we make a house thoroughly rat proof we should abandon the project?

The PRESIDENT-Yes. that. I am in favour of the campaign being ly rat proof" having a case of plague, If you do that the first place you will go to is Government House. I think I am right in saying that there has been plague there. It is "not thoroughly rat proof." No house can be thoroughly rat proof which has doors and windows. No more can you make a ship rat proof alongside a wharf by insisting on the regulations for rat funnels while the gangways are down. You mentioned French walls particularly, but I appeal to the Director of Public Works, as I understand that under the existing regulations it is illegal to have lath and plaster walls.

The DIEECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS-In new

Mr. Hoopen - Therefore it is only applicable to old. I could mention houses in this Colony, good perposu residences, in which the walls are lath and plaster partitions, and to call upon the owners in the event of a case of plague that nationality. to pull down the walls would be carrying the law too far. The law does not exist to enable us to do it. I cannot support the recommendstion of the committee.

The VIOR-PRESIDENT The recommendation refers to houses outside the European reservation ?

The PRESIDENT-Yes.

Mr. Hoopen-There are some European houses cutside the reservation in which it would be a hardship. I allude particularly to Caine Road, on the fringe of the reserved area. However, I think your suggestion, to refer it back to the committee, a good one.

The PRESIDENT-Is it worth while to con. tinus the campaign in view of the opposition and expense?

Mr. LAU CHU PAK -As a member represent ing the Chinese I would like to see the whole thing dropped. When the byelaws were introduced they were intended to apply only to houses occupied by coolies. Now it appears we are gradually interfering with Chinese houses in the Colony.

COLOREL BEDFORD-I should like to echo the wish expressed by Mr. Hooper that we continus with the removal of those false ceilings even if we cannot deal with all the conditions which encourage the presence of rats. In my own experience in this Colony I am bound to admit that the false ceiling is a very advantageous retreat for rats. In Government buildings there are many now, and in the sergeants' mess at Victoria Barracks the men there 200 the rate looking at them through the interstices of the lattice work. Of course we cannot remove every place of retreat for rate, but we should remove all those that we know. I support Mr. Hooper in urging the advisability of removing those false ceilings wherever they exist, and I must express regret they have been adopted in so many houses in the Colony. The sooner they are done away with the better. The PERSIDENT pointed out that as the scheme was at present it was unworkable. Mr. Hoopen-Quite right, sir. The report was referred back to the com mittee.

By the time these lines are in print the polling will be upon for three weeks we will know no peace in the land, till the infallible electorate has finally pronounced for or against the Budget. It may be interesting to set down some forecasts I have heard, for comparison with the real results as they come along. One who is very close to Mr. Balfour predicts a Conservative majority of sixty. HEAVY DEATH DUTTES. The Chancellor of the Exchequer is in luck even if his Budget has been referred back to the country. The sister of the recentlydeceased multi-millionaire, Mr. Charles Morrison, has now died, so that in a few months death duties to the tune of over two millions have had to be paid to the Treasury. There is still a hugo fortune to be divided between the remaining relatives, for in addition to the heavy sums left to other relations the late Mr. Charles Morrison left his nister three millions. It is understood that she has left legacies ranging from £5,000 to £100.000 to numerous nephews and neices, and a very large number of annuities to faithful servants.

The suffragettes are getting ready for fresh extravagancies. The attack on the eyesight of prove that the defendant was regularly married | defendant on several occasions that he would be | an election official having failed to rouse the country to grant hem votes, and the discarding of all clothing by a Bristol enthusiast having equally failed, new methods of showing their madness have been devised. THE NEW REGIME IN BELGIUM. British relations with Belgium are likely to be much improved under the rule of the new King. He has promised reforms for the Congo for one thing, and it was British criticism of the regime of the late King Leopold that made the ill-feeling between the countries. Nobody seems to mourn Leopold very much, but his nephew ascends the throne with an accompaniment of international sighs of relief from the scandals attending the life of the brainy old reprobate who has passed away. As one paper wittily put it-" The usual saying must be sitered a little. It must read in this case 'Of the dead no good can be spoken."

JOHN BURNS. John Burns is having the fight of his life in Batterses, but will win through. In that case he will succeed Mr. Herbert Gladstone as Home Secretary should the Government be returned to power. John is being opposed by both Conservatives and Socialists, but there are many Conservatives who will vote for him because he has run the Local Government Board with such stern impartiality as to earn the hatred of all the petty boodlers that gather round the smaller local bodies of England. And John has such a knack of getting into the limelight, The other day there was a great fire at a South London draper's store. Along came the member for Batterses, collected a volunteer band of soldiers and sallors who were looking on, and, armed with knives from a neighbouring butcher's shop, they out down the festdons that were carrying the dames from one department to another. I remember last year it was a lost sower man that brought John to the front, Down he went into the sewer to find the missing man. Assuredly it is a difficult thing to "out" s man like that.

It should help to make things more lively for the bored garrison at Gibraltar, if nothing else, for there is sure to be a considerable overflow of visitors to the Rock.

CANADA AND THE U.S. Over in America just now there is a movement, engineered by the paper and timber men mainly, to get Canada moving towards the sontiment in favour of annexation with the United States. There are a few Canadians who for private reasons desire such a consummation, but their numbers are small, and the object of the Yankee mischief-makers -a question tariff and the manipulation of Canadian forest reserves for American paper manufacturers purposes mainly—are too clear for the average Cannek to "be taking any." No, Canada is as loyal as ever and ten times more prosperous, and if there is to be any annexation it will not be in the direction indicated.

A "NOETH POLE DINNER! The North Pole experiences -real or otherwise -of Peary and Cook have served most amateur thestrical parties with material for lots of fun this Christmas But the most expensive outlay of this kind was that arranged by Mr. George Kessler, the wine magnate, who entertained a number of quests at the Savoy on Christmas Eye to a "North Pole dinner." The great hall was transformed into an Arctic scene and the waiters were dressed as Esquimaux. The dinner cost about £3,000-or sixty pounds head for the guests.

Defendant was not represented. Mr. Wright stated that the plaintiff was the Viceroy of Canton. This was a civil action started in the Provincial Court at Canton on the 10th November last, and was transferred this Court by his Lordship's order dated 18th November. There was a copy of the writ on file which claimed for moneys received by defendant as plaintiff a agent and for the use of the pinintiff. It was a specially endorsed write and when the return day came along counsel would apply for judgment. In the meantime he had filed a motion for payment of a certain sum of money, the property of the defendant, pending the trial of the case.

The following affidavite had been filed in support of the motion :-

Affidavit of G. H. Wright, solicitor :-I. I have the conduct of this action in this pourt, acting under the instructions of Mesers. | General in Canton, whichever it may be. Descon Looker & Descon, Hongkong, who represent the above-named plaintiff.

4. The document now produced and shown to me. marked "A " is a newspaper cutting from the N.-C. Daily News purporting to contain a report of the proceedings in an application made on the 15th January, 1909, by the Crown Advocate for an order that the expenses of the prosecution of the defendant be paid out of the sum of money found it his possession. In the said report it is stated that there is sum of about $4.000 in each in the hands of the said court at Canton, and as appears from this on or about the 24th inst win.

MOTHER FINDS GOOD FRIEND IN CUTICURA

"I first started using Cutioura Soap about two and a half years ago for my lithle boy. When a few months old he had teething rash very badly. It spread all over his face and body which made him very irritable, especially at He used to scratch and rub unbled, causing him great pain and I tried different kinds of soap olntments all to no purpose. thought I would give Cutioura Scap a trial. I bought a tablet and after my baby's first wash with Cuticura Boap he seemed quite soothed and siept well.
I applied a little Cuticura Cintment every night and after about a month's treatment with two tablets of Cutiours Soap and one box of Cutloura Ointment there was no sign of rash on any part of his body or face. Ever since I have kept to Cuticura Scap and no other and hope never to be without it. You will pleased to hear I use it for my other little boy, now eight months old, whose fiesh is beautiful and smooth, My husband finds Cuticura Scap excellent for shaving and doesn't find it so dry and hard after shaving as other soaps. Cutiours Soap leaves one so cool and refreshed. Mrs. Emily Hine, 2, Myrtis Villas Bedfont, Middx., England, Nov. 4 and 29, 1908.

6.—To the best of my knowledge and belief the defendant does not intend to defend the action as appears from the copy of letters from Messrs. Descon, Looker & Deacon to Measrs. Hanson. MoNeill & Jones, dated respectively 15th and 31st December, 1909, now produced to me and marked "O" and "D" respectively, and it is very necessary that the balance of the sum now in the said court at Canton after the payment of the sums directed to be paid by the said order of this court date 13th January, 1910. be paid into this court & ading the trial of this

2.—The defendant is justly and truly indebted to the above plaintiff in the sum of $74,624.42 for moneys received by him as the plaintiff's agent for the use of the plaintiff and was so iodebted at the commencement of this action. 3.-Particulars of said claim appear by the endersement on the writ of summons in this 15th January, before Sir Haviland W. de action with the exception, however, of the item Sausmarez, judge, the case of "Yuan Shu Hean of $50,000 received between the 25th November, (Governor-General of Liang-kwang) v. > Mr. Wright added that his knowledge of the existence of this money, and where it was at the present time. was simply taken from the newspaper report, which stated that the money was found in the possession of the prisoner at the time he was arrested. It was then lodged in since. The money was now released under the order made by Mr. Lindsey Smith and came into the possession of the defendant again. That being so, and having regard to the fact that a civil action was pending in which, as ha said in his affidavit, there would probably be no defence, he esked his Lordship to make an order that that sum be deposited in this court His Lordship - Or that it remain in the hands > of the Consul at Canton. Mr. Wright-That will suit me. His Lordship-Very well, I make the order. am in no way interfering with the order made the learned assistant Judge. His order releases that money, and therefore it is now in the position in which the defendant can, by applying for it, obtain it, and therefore I make a fresh order which will direct that the money > be attacked by this court in this action in the hands of the Court in Canton or of the Consul-Wright asked if the costs would costs in the cause.

His Lordship-I don't think there is any need for an order as to costs. It is the Chinese Government suing. It seems to me this is hardly a case for costs, but if you ask for the order I will make it.

Mr. Wright - No. I won't, my lord. The Court then rose.

A CONSULAR "RAID" AT SHANGHA

Nothing since the riot in December, 1909, says the Shanghai Times, has happened in Shanghai which has been fraught with such unpleasant possibilities as the visit of the three Mixed Court Assessors to the City Magistrate's Yamen on Wednesday afternoon. In the morning a peremptory demand had been made by the Senior Consul for the return to the Settlements of Ng Andau, whose name figured so largely in the $3.80 per share, and to carry forward the Municipal Gasette. The letter stated that unless the request was complied with, the three Assessors of the Mixed Court, British, American and German, would call at the Yamen of the City Magistrate at three o'clock to make personal demand for the relesse of Ng. The Taotai promptly replied to this letter stating that the proposed visit of the Assessors was irregular. and that he would take the matter out of the hands of the Magistrate, bringing the prisoner to his own Yamen and hearing the case in person. On receipt of this letter it is stated that the Senior Consul telephoned its contents to the Assessors, but this did not dannt the zeal of these intrepid souls, who were evidently filled with been deputed to do this work by the Consular Body, and do it they would. Accordingly the British Assessor, Mr. S. Barton, the American Assessor, Mr. F. W. Hadley, and the German Assessor, Dr. Schirmer, proceeded to the City to interview the Magistrate, Mr. Tion, who received them courtequaly. The Assessors stated their mission and were told by the Magistrate that under no circumstances could he consent to the forcible removal of the man. He communicated at once with the Taotai, who was hearing an appeal case at the Bureau of Foreign Affairs on Bubbling Well Road along with Sir Pelham Warren. The Taotai sent his interpreter, Mr. Chen She kwan, to the City as soon as the appeal case was finished and also communicated his proposed action to Sir Pelham Warren. After Mr. Chen arrived at the Magistrate's Yamen the prisoner Ng was brought always kept on hand. from the cells and shown to the Assessors. Instead of finding a man so maimed by his treatment that he was unable to move the man could walk and talk, though his legs showed them to the Bettlements otherwise they proposed to stay in the Yamen until their wish was complied with. The Magistrate proceeded to make this possible by providing the amiable gentlemen with food and pigars. In the even-ing about nine o'clock the Assistant British Assessor, Mr. D. R. Coales, and the Belgian Vice-Consulartived at the Yamen with a letter in French from the Senior Consul which was said to be a personal note and had nothing to do with the question under discussion. However, about ten o'clock the five men left the Yamen. sadder but wiser. The prisoner found his hopes of telesee dashed to the ground and went back to his dismal quarters. Next day the Taotai heard the case in person at his Yamen in the City, and released the man for a month on bond until he had recovered from the effects of the beating which he had received. The case against the man will then be taken up by the Taotal and the accusations disposed of

A "REAL IMITATION RUBBER.

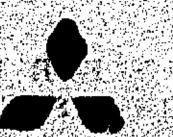

The Financial World of November 13 says that it has been left to a Russian chemist, of the name of Plinatus, to make what certainly is a "real" imitation rubber. After three years of persistent experimenting and inventing, and what is perhaps more important, the discovery of entirely new chemical re-actions, an imitation rubber has been produced which to the eye is as real as the purest rubber. This Plinatus rubber has been patented in Germany and patents have been one of its many uses has been the introduction of Plinatus rabber for both pneumatic and solid rubber tyres. This may seem contradictory, but the explanation is simple for outer tyres Plinatus cannot be used, but for the filling of the inner tubes, it replaces air in the pneumatic tyres, and it replaces real rubber in the solid tyres. Cab proprietors in Paris have experimented with it for eighteen months, and so satisfactory are the results that the German Company which bought the German rights and started a factory on the 1st instant have contracted with the patentees to establish a branch factory in Paris on or before December 1 next, and in the meantime the German Company is filling the wheels for Paris cabs. Speaking of the substance itself we might point out that Plinatus rubber is tough, firm, exceptionally pliable, highly elastic and of the same consistency as real rubber. To the touch it is identical with rubber, and in appearance difficult to distinguish; it can be made soft, hard or leatherlike according to requirements. The specific weight varies from 0.6 to 1.18, the tensile strength of the soft rubber is 20 to 25 per cent. less than that of real rubber. It withstands pressure to almost a higher degree than rubber itself. The artificially introduced air bubbles give it an exceptionally strong expanding power. Prepared as soft rubber it withstands a pressure of about 10 lb. per qcm.; the 94,250.00 hard rubber up to 40 lb. per qcm. Light has no influence upon it; further it is absolutely in-392,403.49 soluble in benzine, ether, turpentine, petroleum, tetrschloricacid, etc. and entirely indifferent to all mineral and vegetable oils. It is the only rubber, real or imitation, that will withstand these oils, and at the same time not swell. The prime cots of production is from 3d. to 8d. per lb. depending upon the uses for which it is intended. Com-ing back to one of its main uses, cab and other vehicle tyres. Plinatus rubber promises to cause a revolution in the trade. The inner tubes are filled with Pinatus rubber and this produces a true of exceptional strength and durability. The drivers of Plinatus rubber tyres do not know the meaning of puncture or burst tyres and drive with the same perfect case and comfort as with the best pneumatic styre. Compared with solid tyres it has the enormous 280.00 advantage in cost and further in durability and 1,894.00 in elasticity, etc., hitherto only connected with pneumatic tyres. At the present time arrangements are in progress to supply 1,000 cabs in Paris with tyres filled with Plinatus rubber. So many imitation rubbers have been placed before the trade, that it is small wonder that people get sceptical, but we understand that the patentee is willing to receive through his representatives in Berlin or London four wheels of cab or brougham, which he at his own expense will fill with Plinatus rubber and return, that the owner thereof may convince himself as to the merita of "Plinatus rubber. "Plinatus rubber, it should be stated, does not get hard or brittle, and time does not rob it of its elasticity. It is long post the experimental stage, and arrangements are pending for the sale of the British rights. Another feature of no little importance is the fact that a very small sum suffices for the starting of a factory on a small and yet absolutely paying scale. The British patent rights are in the hands of Mr. Frederich Lehfeldt, of Berlin, S. W. 68, or his London agent, Mr. A. M. Lehfeldt, 50, Buckingham Palace Road, S. W. Either of these gentlemen will be pleased to give interesting parties the requisite information or to take them over the factory at Krefeld.
